During the Eucharist, in the confessional the penitentiary canon attends to the faithful who wish to ask for mercy, reconciling themselves with God and the Church through the Sacrament of Penance. After the Lord's prayer is said, the Holy Communion is distributed.

We remind you that to receive Communion you must be baptised in the Roman Catholic or Orthodox faith and with the right dispositions. However, you can inwardly express your desire to join Christ, in a Spiritual Communion.

After giving thanks to God, the Benedictus is sung (Lk 1, 68-79). At the end of the prayer after communion, the Chapter of Cordoba, with the faithful who wish to participate, will read the Prayer during the day, with three psalms which you can also download should you wish to follow it.

The liturgy ends by singing to the Virgin Mary.

No photographs or videos are allowed during the celebration.
